Making Wedding Day Dreams Come True

GOSFIELD HALL

Making Wedding Day Dreams Come True...

Follow in the footsteps of royalty with a grand celebration at Gosfield Hall, just an hour and a half from Central London. This sublime Georgian mansion, once home to Kings and Queens, can be hired exclusively for complete privacy. With palatial interiors and picturesque grounds, a wedding here definitely has the 'wow' factor. Let our Personal Wedding Managers help plan your perfect day so you too can feel like a royalty.

THE HOUSE

Step back in time through the ancient gateway into one of Britain's most splendid examples of both Tudor and Georgian architecture. Built by Sir John Wentworth in 1545, the manor still retains its original features including leaded windows and an imposing Clock Tower. Gosfield's four unique aspects stand majestic against the manicured lawns and offer endless photo opportunities. Whilst indoors one can celebrate in Georgian stately rooms boasting elaborate cornicing, classical oil paintings and glittering chandeliers.

THE HOUSE

The 120-ft aisle in Queen Charlotte's oak panelled gallery makes for a theatrical entrance into your ceremony. Alternatively, say your vows beneath the ornate painted high ceiling in the Grand Salon, where sunlight streams from the floor to ceiling windows running across one side. Those getting married in Summer may also want to consider alfresco nuptials, with the historical carriageway overlooking the courtyard now licensed for civil ceremonies.

Recreate a regal banquet for up to 116 guests, with a wedding breakfast in the stunning Marquis of Buckingham's former Ballroom. Further reception rooms include the Prophets Chamber and our traditionally English Library, bar and disco. Our dazzling starlight dancefloor will light up the room ready for you to take the floor for your first dance and where memories will be created.

THE GROUNDS

Gosfield Hall can be found in Constable Country, glorious rural Essex, only 30 minutes from Stansted and easily accessible from the M11. A meandering driveway through pretty parkland leads you to the imposing front of the house. Through the gateway, guests are welcomed into a tranquil inner courtyard, centered around a fountain filled with ornamental Carp. Explore over 10 acres of elegant grounds, with reception rooms boasting panoramic views of the mile long lake.

THE GROUNDS

The manicured gardens at Gosfield Hall offer plenty of outdoor settings for your wedding photographs. Whether it be by the mighty stag statues that sit on plinths guarding the house, or amongst the flower beds and trees, including ancient Elms once planted by King Louis XVIII to commemorate his stay. Enjoy croquet during the day and then light candles and hurricane lanterns in the evening for a romantic atmosphere.

For those wanting a religious ceremony, the village church, St Catherine's, is just a short walk across the cornfield, providing a natural aisle for any Summer brides. Lead your guests back to the terrace where Champagne and canapés can be served in good weather.

FINE DINING

Like the royalty who once feasted here, be spoilt with our culinary expertise. From multi-course plated dinners to lavish buffets, create your own bespoke menu with your Personal Wedding Manager who will guide you through our exciting options as well as every aspect of your day. Should you want something special, we are thrilled to accommodate all tastes and dietary requirements with particular attention to local and seasonal produce. Our specially selected wines will complement your wedding breakfast, with our Dadnor English Sparkling Rosé exclusively available for your toasts.

FINE DINING

Our in-house catering team work hard to offer creative menus, perfect wine pairings and impeccable service for an unforgettable dining experience. Whether you want an extra sorbet course or a trio of desserts, each dish is beautifully presented with care to colour and flavour. All food is freshly prepared and supplemented with vegetables and herbs grown in the gardens.

A full bar menu is provided for your event, stocked with everything from Pimms to Port to accompany regional cheeses. Mulled Wine with miniature mince pies is a festive favourite for winter weddings, served by the roaring log fire in the Grand Salon.

THE HISTORY OF GOSFIELD HALL

Built by Sir John Wentworth in 1545, Gosfield Hall is said to be the oldest surviving Tudor mansion in the country that has a fully preserved courtyard. In its early days of the Tudor period, the Hall became temporary royal residence to Queen Elizabeth I on more than one occasion as it formed part of her yearly summer progress. It is a delightful coincidence that after these visits the Queen's next destination would be to stay with the Rich family at Leez Priory, Gosfield Hall's sister wedding venue.

In the 18th century the house belonged to Lord Nugent who landscaped the park: creating a splendid garden and introducing many different trees and shrubs, some of which can still be seen today. In this splendid setting, the Nugents were able to lavishly entertain guests of high society including the Prince of Wales.

In 1807 the house was loaned to the exiled King Louis XVIII of France and his wife Queen Marie-Joséphé-Louise of Savoy. The Hall became a home of lavish French hospitality where its guests would dine in the Grand Salon with its beautiful painted ceiling designed by Sir James Thornhill.

This magnificent mansion, that has been fit for royalty over the last 500 years, now adds an entirely different chapter to its history and has settled comfortably into its new role as a venue for weddings and receptions.
